DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to applicant's amendment filed April 26, 2010.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-53 and 55-58 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: while the prior art as exemplified in Ohsaka (U.S 4,306,351) and Lebens (U.S 6,521,513) teaches that scribing may result in cracks over a protective material. The prior art does not disclose or make obvious forming a vertical crack extending from the scribe line by rolling a grooved cutter wheel without sliding along a surface of the protective material including all the limitations of the independent claim.

Moreover, while Ohsaka its scriber rotatably supported, it appears that the rotation is for adjusting the angle of its scriber.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art discloses or makes obvious in Lebens (U.S 6,521,513) and Tateiwa (U.S 3,680,213) use of cracks formed from scribing.
